

A Force of Excellence for a Better Tomorrow.

Crafting and implementing employer or industry qualification standards can build a better future. That's why we provide invaluable education, networking and resources to credentialing professionals. The CNG is the source to make that all available FREE!

We attract industry professionals from all levels of achievement and encourage open expression and stimulating perspectives. In this way, you benefit from choice industry knowledge by proven experts, innovative thinking by beginners in the credentialing field and thoughtful solutions by the CNG vendor partners.

Combine all this with easy access to those from all levels of industry, and it's no wonder our attendees — regardless of position, status or need — experience faster, more agile professional growth.

The CNG Mission:

As a force of excellence in the progressive development of credentialing professionals, the Certification Networking Group offers invaluable connections, education, and resources.

Ready for the Challenge?

Applications and supporting documents are due by September 1 with elections occurring shortly after. Should you be elected to the CNG Board you will be expected to attend the CNG Annual Meeting in the DC area that fall, before your term begins. Three-year terms begin and end with the calendar year.

Visit the CNG website for more information or contact the Chair of the Nominations Committee at CNGnominations@gmail.com.

A Place Where You Can Thrive.

Become a volunteer for the Certification Network Group as a Board of Director or Steering Committee member.

Certification Network Group

Certification Network Group

CertificationNetworkGroup.org

Are You a Leader?

The CNG is looking for professionals in the credentialing industry who demonstrate engagement in the credentialing industry and who have a dedication to continuous professional development.

In addition to planning quarterly meetings in Chicago and Washington DC, you'll work with other credentialing professionals on a variety of projects. The CNG enjoys and welcomes collaborative relationships with professional associations and corporations which concentrate their resources on certification industry issues. You'll create value for your organization as well as the credentialing industry.

Steering Committee members will work with industry leaders to develop and execute quarterly events in Chicago or Washington DC. Experience in the credentialing industry and an interest in planning engaging events is all that's required.

What's in it for me?

Volunteering for the CNG Board or Steering Committee is a great way to network with other certification professionals in a variety of job settings and develop your expertise in the credentialing industry. The CNG is a diverse group of experts working together to provide networking opportunities, relationship building, education, and resources for certification professionals to support their initiatives in certification and accreditation.

What's in it for my employer?

The knowledge and experience gained through Board or Committee leadership will readily transfer to your work at your organization. And better work and fresh ideas from others mean quality customer service and state-of-the-art certification processes for those your organization certifies.

What's in it for the credentialing industry?

Your contributions on the CNG Board or Steering Committee as a certification professional will influence the next and future generations of credentialing professionals, and the networking events provide a way to share knowledge and experience in a variety of ways.

CertificationNetworkGroup.org

Expectations of CNG Board Members

Board member shall assist the CNG to:

- ▶ Uphold the mission and vision of the CNG.
- ▶ Provide continuous networking opportunities for certification professionals.
- ▶ Provide financial oversight and budgeting for the activities of the CNG.
- ▶ Prepare annual goal setting and strategic planning.
- ▶ Develop timelines and policies for all committees.
- ▶ Develop relationships with program sponsors.
- ▶ Serve as an ambassador to CNG with new and existing members.
- ▶ Identify current and new stakeholder groups.

Although most Board and Committee activities are held via teleconference, some travel may be required for the Annual Meeting in the metro Washington, DC area.

Expectations of CNG Steering Committee Members

Steering Committee members shall assist the CNG to:

- ▶ Develop quarterly networking activities for certification professionals and product vendors in the DC or Chicago areas.
- ▶ Identify and recruit recognized experts to speak on relevant topics.
- ▶ Select locations for events, market events, and develop event advertising content for the CNG website.

